

Corporate Finance

It's key to have a trusted legal team who can help navigate the intricacies of initial public offerings, secondary offerings, private placements, cross-border offerings and new issuances of equity or debt – whether that's shares, trust units, preferred shares, convertible debt or high-yield debt.

Our team has the experience to create and develop sophisticated financial instruments, financing techniques and structures that will help you address your most pressing financing issues.

Our team helps organizations successfully navigate even the most complex corporate finance transactions, while collaborating with colleagues in related areas, including:

- tax
- banking
- structured finance
- regulatory

Our areas of counsel and advice include:

- private and public financings
- representing issuers, including major corporations, entrepreneurs, partnerships, funds, income and business trusts
- representing underwriters, selling security holders, sponsors and other investors in domestic and cross-border financings
