Marlena has a diverse practice with a focus on regulatory/advisory work, environmental disputes, and general commercial litigation.

In her regulatory/advisory practice, she regularly assists clients in navigating a broad range of regulatory compliance matters, and has engaged directly with government agencies for this purpose.

She has assisted with commercial transactions, including providing guidance on environmental issues and assessing the regulatory implications of change of control scenarios. In her litigation practice, she handles complex legal issues and provides pragmatic advice and solutions to clients. Marlena is called and practices in both B.C. and Alberta. She is in her seventh year of practice.

Experience

Some of Marlena's recent regulatory/advisory experience includes:

- Advised on regulations governing or restricting a consumer-facing, take-back recycling program for vaping products in B.C.
