Mallie is developing a broad disputes resolution and litigation practice. She is passionate about providing excellent service to clients throughout all stages of dispute resolution, while further developing her research and advocacy skills.

While in law school, Mallie played an active role in the Windsor Law community in her role as Teaching Assistant for Legal Research and Writing. She also worked as a Research Assistant, focusing on information privacy at the Canada-U.S. border.

Mallie also enjoyed extra-curricular experiences in Windsor and Detroit, including volunteering with Community Legal Aid at University of Windsor, the Third Judicial Circuit Court of Michigan, and expungement clinics led by the University of Detroit Mercy.

Mallie summered and articulated with BLG before returning as an associate.
